Political Questions—Aid Promised to Senator Lodge—Republicans to Present Solid Front in 1924—Statements Significant

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Harding will be a candidate for re-election in 1924 and will be nominated unanimously by the Republican party, Senator Watson of Indiana, prominent in the Republican leadership, predicted in the senate today during a debate with Democrats over political questions. The senator also promised his support for Senator Lodge, Republican leader in the senate for that position in the next congress saying that "if the senator from Massachusetts wants to be leader in the next congress, I know of no reason why he shouldn't be and I am for him."

He added that the Republican party would present a united front in 1924 and stand on the administration's record in congress and in the executive departments.

Significance was attached to Senator Watson's statements because of mention which has been made of him as a possible presidential candidate next year and because of his prominence in the administration leadership and his close personal and political connection with President Harding.

NO CHANGE IN RAIL WORKERS WAGE FOR YEAR

Assured by Two Decisions by Railroad Labor Board

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Preservation of existing wage rates and working rules for train, yard and engine service employees on all the railways of the country for another year was assured tonight by two decisions of the railroad labor board.

In the first decision the board postponed further action in cases of 17 railways and 9 subsidiary lines which sought reductions of wages and revision of working rules until some date subsequent to October 1, 1923.

A second decision also postponed for the same period action on cases submitted on a large number of roads by the firemen's organization in which a rule was requested to compel the railways to employ two firemen on the larger engines.

Some cases filed by the employees on a large number of the roads asking pay for men while away from home because of the nature of their runs, but not on duty also were postponed until after next October.

In its first decision the board, the fact that 95 per cent of the railways have executed agreements with their employees which preserve for another year the wages and rules which have been in effect since July 1, 1921. In declining to take action at this time in the cases remaining before it the board declared that it is "of the opinion that it would be a disturbing factor in the present railway labor situation under the circumstances above detailed to establish rates and conditions on a few roads for train, engine and yard service at variance with those prevailing on more than 95 per cent of the railway mileage of the country."

The board stated:
"The action taken here must not be construed in any manner or degree to indicate its position one way or another upon merits of the questions at issue or in any sense as an invitation to other carriers to join in these disputes."

The action of the board disposed for the present all cases before it involving wages or rules.

WOULD REGULATE THE OPERATIONS OF SUPREME COURT

Decisions Made on Constitutional Questions Too Closely Divided

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Congress has been likened to a messenger boy standing in the ante-room of the supreme court waiting for approval or disapproval of its act, Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, said today in a statement accompanying a record of closely divided supreme court decision on constitutional questions which he placed in the congressional record.

Mr. Frear proposed a constitutional amendment giving congress the power to determine how many members of the supreme court shall join in decisions declaring laws unconstitutional to provide for the recall of judges without impeachment or for review and set aside decisions by a two thirds vote of both houses.

"The decision of the supreme court," said Mr. Frear, "declaring the income tax unconstitutional by five judges to four, followed by the emasculating of the income tax sixteenth constitutional amendment holding stock dividends non-taxable by the same vote, call for relief and some method of enacting laws that are not in the judgment of the court 'supposed laws'."

He also cited the finding in the Newberry case and the decision holding the child labor law invalid as having been handed down by closely divided courts.

Within 30 days, Mr. Frear said the department of labor has called attention to the fact that "300 statutes, bills and ordinances have been set aside by the courts in the present epidemic of judge-made law."

One Vote Decisions
"Many laws, state and national," he continued, "have been held unconstitutional by only one vote of the court and proportionately narrow escapes in determining constitutionality are numerous."

The method of selecting judges," said Mr. Frear, "frequently has been one of the most defeated for re-election for office by their constituents, of men who are life time federal judges and often of men who never sat on any bench but have constantly been in an atmosphere of corruption. Litigation is no marked, than failure in recent years to graduate any member of the 45 state courts to a place in our highest court."

THREE DEAD AND MANY MISSING IN GET TO FIRE

Search Continued for Possible Victims
Under Debris

(By The Associated Press)
WICHITA, Kans., Feb. 5.—With 27 persons unaccounted for search was continued tonight for additional victims who may be buried beneath 12 feet of debris within the brick wall skeleton of the four story Getto Building, consumed by fire early today. The death toll stood at three this evening.

Eight persons were seriously injured. Many received minor injuries. Names of 23 of those unaccounted for were published this afternoon and it was expected that some of them could be eliminated with later reports to the police and fire departments.

Identification Impossible
Identification of three bodies taken from the ruins during the day could not be established, the flames having almost cremated them.

The Getto Building, erected in 1886, was considered one of Wichita's landmarks. The lower floor was occupied by a grocery and market and a furniture company removed their stock from the other half of the building only last week. The three upper floors were used as apartments by persons of moderate or limited means it was said.

The flames were discovered shortly after a. m., by Patrolman A. L. Jarvis, who summoned the fire department immediately. It was evident within a few minutes Jarvis said that the building could not be saved and the firemen devoted their efforts to rescuing the imprisoned dwellers.

Many Narrow Escapes
Many women were carried down ladders, others were prevented from jumping by firemen and still others escaped by one of three exits. The south stairway was cut off by flames soon after the fire was discovered it was declared. Some inmates escaped down a north stairway not generally used and others used the metal fire escape which later became red hot and crumbled to the ground. Only a few of the victims had time to take street clothing with them.

About an hour after the fire was discovered according to firemen an explosion was heard in the center of the building and the south wall crumbled, falling on the roof of an adjoining building. Damage to the latter building was placed at $10,000 and a second building across the street was damaged to the extent of $5,000, it is said.

Only a smoke blackened brick wall remains standing in the front part of the building. The sidewalk presents a jagged run with the center section missing. The building was valued at $70,000, its owner, A. H. Hill, stated. Insurance, he said, would cover $27,500 of the loss.

SNOW AND SLEET CAUSE DEATH OF FOUR IN DIXIE

Many Southern States Now Covered Deep with Snow

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 5.—Four persons are dead tonight as a result of the snow and sleet storms that spread over Southern territory from the Potomac River to the far reaches of the lower Mississippi Valley enveloping the Southland in the most rigid blasts of the winter.

With the exception of Florida, few sections of the south tonight were not shivering from the wintry winds. Virginia was under a mantle of snow that extended from the mountains to coast, western North Carolina reported three to five inches of snow and other portions of the state faced freezing temperatures.

Virtually all of Tennessee suffered from the coldest weather of the season. At Johnson City eight inches of snow had fallen in the past 36 hours the heaviest in sixteen years.

NEW IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION BILL NEARS COMPLETION

Japanese Exclusion Rendered Possible by a General Provision—Would Reduce Quotas
of Immigrants in Any One Year—Plan to Avoid Division of Immigrant Families

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Exclusion of Japanese immigrants and a reduction in the percentage of aliens admissible from European countries would be provided for by sections of a proposed permanent immigration restriction act approved today by the house immigration committee. Completion of the entire measure within a day or two and a prompt report to the house is the committee's plan.

Japanese exclusion would be made possible, it was explained, under a general provision of the bill, which sets forth that "an immigrant not eligible to citizenship shall not be admitted to the United States."

To meet treaty stipulations exceptions would be made in the cases of ministers of the gospel, professors of colleges, members of any "learned profession and bona fide students, who seek to enter the United States solely for the purpose of study at an educational institution particularly designated" by them. Such students who married after entering the country would be deported.

Explaining the section of the bill which would provide for the exclusion of Japanese immigrants, Chairman Johnson said it was the purpose simply to translate into law the terms of the "gentleman's agreement" between the United States and Japan affecting immigration from the latter country. In the past the executive branch has objected to attempts to deal with this question in general legislation by congress but thus far there has been no announcement of objection in the present instance.

Near East Immigration
As affecting Europe and the Near East the bill would reduce the quotas of immigrants from any one country in any one year to four hundred and in addition two percent of the number of foreign born individuals of such nationality resident in the United States as determined by the 1890 census. The present restriction act, which this bill would replace and which expires by limitation on June 30, 1924, places the quotas at three percent, based on the census of 1910.

Bill in Operation
The number of immigrants who would be admissible in any one year under the provision is estimated at 186,437 as against the 358,837 annually under the present act, but actually the 186,437 total probably would be greatly exceeded thru the operation of general provisions designed to avoid division of families. Thus there would be admitted irrespective of fixed quotas the immediate family and close relatives of any foreign born citizen of the United States and the immediate family of any alien resident in this country for two years and who a year previously had formally declared his intention to become a citizen.

The purpose of going back to the census of 1890 as a basis for quotas was explained was to increase the proportion of aliens admissible from countries in northern and western Europe and to decrease the proportion from Southern and Eastern Europe. It was about 1890 that the decrease in the flow of immigrants from the Northern and Western countries set in and the decrease in the movement from the southern and western countries began. Committee men said the problem was that of assimilation and that experience had shown that immigrants from the north and west of Europe were more easily assimilated than were those from the other sections.

Illustrating how the new percentage plan would work committee men said Italy's quota would be reduced from the present 42,000 to five thousand and the quota for Germany, for instance, would be increased from 55,000 to 68,000.

Like the present temporary restriction law, the proposed act would not operate against immigration from Canada, New Foundland, Mexico, Cuba and Central and South America provided immigrants seeking admission to the United States had been resident in these countries for five years.

Opposition in the committee to provisions of the bill centered largely around the two percent and 1890 census provisions and these are expected to provide the fighting points in the house. While the committee vote was withheld because taken in an executive session it was reported that proponents of these provisions won by a margin of nearly two votes to one.

"JOHN D." IS BETTER
Ormond Beach, Fla., Feb. 5.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., was feeling so much improved from his recent attack of bronchial trouble that only the uncertain weather with occasional tropical showers kept him off the golf links today, it was said at the Rockefeller home.

Press More Hopeful
CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 5.—In contrast with its recent pessimistic utterances, the press tonight is inclined to take a hopeful view that the Lausanne rupture is not complete. It lays stress on despatches reporting that intervention towards resumption of the negotiations is expected.

Constantinople is tranquil and foreign circles only fear the possibility of a frantic outbreak among the irresponsible elements in Istanbul which is considered remote. The military men are watching the Maritza frontier anxiously in the belief that if the rupture is definite the Greeks may regard the situation as reverting to the status before the Mudania armistice and attempt to re-occupy their positions. This undoubtedly would precipitate a grave situation as it is known that the Turks have increased their forces in that region far beyond the agreed numbers.

CONFERENCE ON TURK PROBLEMS MORE FAVORABLE

Ismet Pasha Appears
More Amenable to Allies' Demands

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Feb. 5.—M. Bompard, head of the French delegation at Lausanne, had a long talk with Ismet Pasha before leaving for Paris, details of which he telegraphed to Premier Poincare, who received his message this afternoon. Ismet was more completely informed of the intentions of the allies in the event a settlement was not reached. He did not persist in his uncompromising attitude of last night and accepted the text of the capitulations previously submitted to him, thus removing only obstacle to the signature of the treaty.

The reservations of the Turks on other points, such as Mosul have been accepted by the allies.

News Is Favorable

Premier Poincare hastened to transmit this favorable news to London and it should be in the hands of the British government tonight altho perhaps too late for the cabinet meeting called on the arrival of Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary from Lausanne.

Ismet Pasha told M. Bompard that if he should make a hurried trip to Ankara it was fully understood that the Mudania armistice would continue in force at least during his absence.

U. S. Ambassador Confers

LAUSANNE, Feb. 5.—Ambassador Child had a long conference with Ismet Pasha today but so far as these conversations were concerned the head of the Turkish delegation adopted no decisive attitude on the questions which have appeared to deadlock the near east conference.

The American ambassador informed Ismet tonight that he was ready to submit to the powers any statement the Turks wished to sign. The Turkish leader is understood to have replied evasively and gave the impression that he was about to make a visit to Ankara.

Ambassador Child probably will leave for Rome tomorrow with the Italian delegation.

A THOUGHT

For now we see thru a glass, darkly; but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known. I Cor. 13:12.

TAKING THE OUTSIDE.

A newspaper asks what side the United States shall take in the present European crisis, and then answers its own question by suggesting that we as a nation take the outside. This is a splendid idea, provided it does not put Uncle Sam also in the position of the innocent bystander. The Hebrew Children would have much preferred the outside of the fiery furnace; but they were thrown into the midst of it against their will. Let us hope that America does not suffer a similar fate.

ALD. CHAPIN RESIGNS

The city council Monday night accepted the resignation of Alderman T. A. Chapin, who desires to retire at the close of the current year. Alderman Chapin takes this action at this time so that his successor may be chosen at the regular election.

During the four years that Mr. Chapin has served as a member of the city council without pay he has devoted his time in an unstinted way to city affairs. The services he has rendered have been of a most valuable kind. He is both a seasoned business man and a skilled engineer, and he has thus been able to serve the city with unusual efficiency. His retirement from the city council will be a distinct loss to Jacksonville.

THE VIRTUE OF TOLERANCE

A famous author kept the following motto displayed above his desk: "In essentials, unity; in non-essentials, charity; in all things, liberty." The average human being is inclined to be more or less narrow in his attitude as to what other people shall think and believe. History is largely made up of the struggle of men to work out their own salvation after their own thoughts and consciences. However, when one set of struggles have gained their triumph, they have usually tried to persuade other people to follow in their footsteps, and sometimes their methods have not been in the least charitable. This led to the rise of another group of free-thinkers, who in their turn struggled to live out their own ideas. However, all this might have been avoided. The author who adhered to the motto given above had solved the problem in his own life. It is never too late to start a good thing, and people everywhere would begin to get together on essentials, to tolerate each other's ideas on things that are not essential, and be charitable in all things toward their fellow men, the world would become a much pleasanter place of abode.

SPORTING SPIRIT

N. E. A.

If you want to get a man's real number, study him when he's playing, not at work. Ten minutes on a golf course, for instance, reveals more about a player's real character than a week in his office.

You can also analyze a man by the recreation he instinctively seeks. Real leaders have taken to golf because it's a game in which they can actually participate as players. Unlike baseball, a form of theatricals in which spectators take no part except paying the bills.

Recreation is the key to the psychology of nations, the same as of individuals. The Germans accurately mirrored their national traits by their Turnverein gymnastic and athletic movements—the members doing the same thing with a solidarity, sternness and machine-like functioning as one united movement. This spirit, of subordinating the individual to the organization, was the war-time spirit of the German army and the home people back of the lines. In countries which have the bull-fight as national recreation, the people naturally have the bull-fight spirit—especially hero-worship and explosive emotions. Did the bull-fight spirit of the people create this bloody and cruel form of contest, or did the contest make the people sink to its own level? Which came first—egg or chicken?

The Chinese take to chess, dominoes and gambling, in preference to active physical sports. So naturally the Chinese are speculative business people, with philosophical chess brains, and not inclined toward physical contests such as flat fights or war.

America and England have the Anglo-Saxon team spirit which asserts itself in games like cricket, baseball and football. Each player constantly tries to make a star play for himself, but his individualism does not make him forget that the team comes first. So one player is constantly watching to cover or neutralize the errors of his team-mates.

Under this team attitude there is a genuine sporting spirit such as you find in no other nations. The team may be beaten, but there is no personal humiliation involved. The loser cheers the victor, the victor cheers the loser. They shake hands and practically forget the game, getting ready for another.

The British fought the Boers. Then, about 15 years later, you found the Boers helping the British fight. The team spirit had drawn them into the British team. The French have no team spirit in their personalities. For sport they turn to fencing—two opponents, one to be victor, one the vanquished. It's all highly individualistic, no co-operation, no getting together and shaking hands at the end.

Probably this explains why France is unable to do team work even with her closest war-time ally, England. "France goes it alone."

MIDGETS ARE DEFEATED

At a game of basketball played last evening between the Midgets and Indians of the Baptist church, the Midgets met with defeat in a score of 46 to 36. A large crowd witnessed the game, during the time of which many substitutes were used. The ardor of the Midgets was not chilled by last night's defeat and they challenge any light weight team in this city. The mentor for the Midgets stated that they expect to book many games before the season closes. Fitch acted as referee at last evening's game.

AGGRESSIVENESS MARKS FRENCH DAILY ADVANCE

Expect to Hold Old and New Territory Occupied

By Associated Press. The French General Weygand and Minister of Public Works Le Toquer, accompanied by railroad experts are on their way from Paris to the Ruhr to formulate plans for handling the railroads in occupied territory without the aid of the Germans.

A semi-official French statement says that while no further extension of the occupation by the French in Baden has been planned, the French in Baden already taken over will be taken even if the Germans agree to cooperate in expediting train service between Paris and Prague.

Germany Silent. Owing to the absence of Chancellor Cuno in occupied territory the Berlin government has made no representations to France concerning the events in Baden. A letter has been sent to the league of nations by the congress of the French Socialist party in session at Lille declaring it is the duty of the league to attempt to settle the reparations question.

The letter calls for the disarmament of Hates. The workmen in the coal mines in the Sarre Valley, taken over by the French in compensation for the ruling by the Germans of mines in Northern France during the war have struck because of a refusal by the governing commission to double their wages. The mines produce nine million tons yearly.

The French continue to take in custody or deport Germans guilty of subversive measures against the occupation authorities.

To Hold Territory

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The French occupation beyond the Keil Bridge opposite Strasburg probably will be maintained even if the Germans resume their cooperation in expediting international train service between Paris and Prague. It was stated semi-officially today in government circles.

Offenburg and Appenweier, the easternmost points in the new occupied zone it was said were entered as a penalty not only for the Germans' obstruction of train service but for other failures to comply with French orders. No extension of the occupation in this region is planned for the moment it is said.

Await Cuno's Return

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—Chancellor Cuno was traversing the occupied Ruhr area when news of the French occupation of Offenburg and Appenweier in Baden, reached him and no official action with respect to this latest French advance is expected before his return to Berlin tomorrow.

The official note apprising the German government of the impending occupation was delivered to the foreign office in the Wilhelmstrasse twelve hours after the French cavalry entered the Badenese cities. While a section of the press discusses the French move in plegmatic tones borne of the prevailing resignation with which Germany's helplessness is largely contemplated, several conservative organs have been aroused to a fit of fury. The Kreuz Zeitung demands the immediate breaking off of relations with France and the expulsion of all French and Belgian members of the allied control commissions, as well as the civilian nationals of both countries now in Germany.

See German Unification. That the French aggressions are rapidly accomplishing complete national unification in Germany is contended by the Loket Anzeiger, which says that neither Bismarck nor Von Hindenburg succeeded in achieving what the French now are bringing the Germans to achieve.

The bulk of the editorial comment is given over to pointing out the "utter lack of legal justification" for the French invasion of Badenese territory as the Versailles treaty, the Germans contend, prescribes that international trains should be accorded the same accommodations as those given German schedules.

As the schedules can be maintained no longer, on account of the coal shortage and the Ruhr government, it is said, also has been obliged to curtail the facilities formerly according to the international express trains.

MURRAYVILLE MAN DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Death of Arthur Seymour Came Monday Morning as Result of Heart Disease—Arrangements for Funeral Incomplete.

The Murrayville community was shocked Monday morning by the news of the death of Arthur Seymour, who for twenty years was the rural mail carrier on Route 1 out of Murrayville. Mr. Seymour passed away at 7:45 o'clock Monday morning as the result of heart disease, his death coming altogether without warning. He was about his usual duties during the early morning hours and was stricken with the fatal attack as he was preparing to eat his morning meal.

The deceased was born in Groveport, Ohio, on July 25, 1865. His marriage to Miss Luella Summers occurred on January 16, 1895, and the family home has been in Murrayville for a number of years past. Mrs. Seymour survives, together with one adopted son, Warren L. Seymour, now resident in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Seymour was a member of the Murrayville lodge of Modern Woodmen of America and held the office of Venerable Consul in that order. He was also a member of the Murrayville lodge A. F. and A. M. and of the Murrayville M. E. church. He was especially devoted to duty and enjoyed the close friendship of all the patrons on his route.

Corner C. A. Rose held an inquest at the family home Monday morning, the jury returning a verdict that the deceased came to his death as the result of valvular lesion of the heart.

The jury included Warren E. Wright, foreman; John N. Osborne, William Ring, H. U. Osborne, G. W. Jackson and Ralph Withee.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

GREAT PLAY COMING. The announcement that "The Circle" will be seen here at the Grand theatre Thursday, February 15, should be received with much interest by local theatre-goers as this is an engagement extraordinary. The Selwyns have cast the Somerset Maugham comedy in a grand manner and have selected a jubilee of stars to present the play on tour that would make a Rockefeller complain of extravagance. Included in the cast to be seen here are Wilton Lackaye, Henry E. Dixey, Amelia Bingham, Charlotte Walker and Norman Hackett. Such a cast coming in a play that was last season's biggest success during its run of one year at the Selwyn theatre, New York, makes it an evening de luxe at the theatre. "The Circle" ran for one year in London at the Haymarket theatre and one year in Paris prior to its New York presentation and had been heralded in the metropolises as the smartest comedy that had been produced in many years.

Cyril Wardle of Chicago is visiting in the city for a few days at the home of his brother, Oswald Wardle. He will also visit at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Louise Henry of Woodson.

SCHOOL CAFETERIA GIVES FINE SERVICE

Report to Board of Education Shows Good Balance in Treasury—Board Discussed Project of Enlarging District.

A very interesting report of the high school cafeteria was given Monday evening at the regular meeting of the board of education. From September to January 1, the enterprise showed a profit of $309.69, represented by cash and materials on hand at the first of the year. The cafeteria is feeding about one hundred persons daily, and on rainy days the number sometimes reaches nearly two hundred. The students can purchase a good noon lunch for about fifteen cents and a real dinner for a quarter.

The board voted funds to improve the equipment in the physical laboratory, so that electricity will be available at the desks of the laboratory students. It was also voted to allow the teachers committee the use of $300, the amount set aside in the budget for the purpose of supplementary reading material and music books for the lower grades in the war schools.

The remainder of the session of the board was taken up with an extended discussion of the matter of enlarging school district No. 117 to take in contiguous territory. It was decided to leave the furthering of the project to the educational forces in the community. Board members present at the meeting last evening were: Members, Duncan Hopper, Metcalf, Meulhausen, Rogerson and Mrs. Roberts. President Black was in the chair, and Supt. B. F. Shafer was present and made several reports on matters of business.

Rosalie Anjou is saved from an Apache by Jules Riboux, an artist, and Tom Richards, a student of the violin, when she accidentally crashes into their studio. Jules Riboux, an old music master who despaired of kindling the flame of genius in his pupil, seizes upon a love which blossoms between Tom and Rosalie to prevail upon the girl to dance in the Moulin Rouge, a notorious night cafe in Paris, that Tom's lessons might continue, the master pledging secrecy. But the master betrays her secret and Tom bitterly denounces Rosalie. He then throws all the anguish of his soul into his bow. The master is elated and confesses that he bartered the girl's good name to awaken Tom's soul, without which genius would have been denied him. Tom saves Rosalie from a watery grave and pledges his everlasting love and devotion.

FAVORABLE ACTION ON BRITISH DEBT LOOKED FOR NOW

Believed Free Discussion of Plan Will Win Support

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Administration leaders in all branches of the government expressed confidence tonight that speedy and favorable action would be taken by congress on the British debt funding settlement once it is submitted by the president.

While it was generally admitted that opposition to the plan would develop considerable strength administration spokesmen argued that a free discussion of the plan would win support for both in congress and throughout the country.

The president was understood tonight not to have definitely determined whether he would present the plan for congressional consideration personally or would send it to the capital with a brief statement of his views, although there were indications pointing to the latter course. It appeared probable that the question would be turned over to congress tomorrow.

Harding Preparing Veto.
President Harding was said to have been engaged much of today in drafting his views on the plan preparatory to the laying of them before congress.

He held numerous conferences with administration leaders and talked over various phases of the plan and discussions between the British and American commissions with several members of the American commission, including Secretary Mellon its chairman.

Secretary Mellon was reported as having declared that he regarded the settlement as a victory for American statesmanship in that it would successfully close one of the greatest transactions ever to take place between two nations. Further, it was said Mr. Mellon informed the president that the settlement if accepted by congress would go far toward solving the great question of dealing with all wartime debts.

COURT MAKES ORDER

FOR REAPPRAISAL
McCreary Estate Affairs Again
Occupied Attention In Sangamon
County—Judge Thompson One
Of Attorneys In Case.
Pending partition proceedings
were delayed in the estate of John H. McCreary in the Sangamon county circuit court, when Judge
E. S. Smith sustained objections made to the appraised value placed on the St. Nicholas hotel, Judge Owen P. Thompson appeared in the case as attorney for one of the objectors.
The valuable McCreary estate
has been the center of somewhat extended litigation. The State Register gives the following summary of Judge Smith's reasons for ordering a re-appraisal of the hotel
property:
A reappraisal of the property by J. A. Morton, Edward D. Keys and Edward W. Payne, who were appointed commissioners, was ordered. They were directed to appraise the property as one unit;
to fix the value of the St. Nicholas hotel proper; the annex; and that part of the hotel known as the Quinn property, separately;
and to arrive at a value of the entire hotel, including furnishings.
The original appraisal, which was not accepted, was made by George Brinkerhoff, Charles E.
Sullivan and W. S. Troxell, and in discharging them from further duty as commissioners, Judge Smith made it plain there was no reflection on their work, and that they had reached their decision relative to the property value as directed by the decree of court.
Appraisal of the property
followed the report of Master-in-Chancery Charles G. Briggie in the partition suit, who held the estate of the late Mr. McCreary should be equally divided among Charles S. Bartholf, William Bartholf, Mrs. Alice B. Henry and Alfred J. McCreary, named as heirs in the decree of will.
When the commissioners' report was entered yesterday there were objections by Judge Owen
P. Thompson, representing Mrs.
Henry, and Atty. J. Lester Williams of Chicago, representing William Bartholf who held that the value fixed at $271,476.72
was insufficient. They pointed out that the property was appraised at $325,000 by the inheritance
tax appraisers following the death of Mr. McCreary and declared that there had been no decrease
in its value since that time.
It was charged by the objectors to the report that the commissioners who made the appraisement
had been improperly advised and that Charles Bartholf,
trustee of the McCreary estate,
and one of the heirs, had boasted that he fixed the appraised value
and had made it as low as could in order that he may buy the
property.
In opposing acceptance of the appraisal the objectors pointed out that the hotel had been a big money maker since the death of Mr. McCreary and cited testimony during the hearing before Master-in-Chancery Briggie which showed the concern had earned annually a net profit of $60,000
or a 10 per cent return on a $600,- 000 investment.
Judge Thompson in arguing on the objection called attention to the fact that Charles Bartholf had instituted the partition proceedings and that he had been acting as trustee of the estate without bond. He also said that evidence brought out at the hearing before
Mr. Briggie had shown that Charles Bartholf took $10,000 a year for managing the hotel; $1,- 000 additional for expenses, and that he also lived at the hotel.

ILLINOIS AVERAGE

CORN YIELD AVERAGE

URBANA, Ill.—(By A. P.) —
The average yield of corn in Illinois increased from 30 to 34
bushels per acre during the last twenty years, despite a decrease in the United States from 27
bushels per acre of fifty years ago
to 26.1 bushels for the ten year period of 1919-1920, according to the agronomy department of the University of Illinois. The institution's program of soil fertility investigations and teachings are declared to be responsible for the increase.
"More than 10,500 samples of soil from eighty counties have been analyzed to date," the department announces, the value of which is two-fold. "We endeavor to have a complete inventory of our natural soil resources. Knowing how much of plant food different crops require for their normal growth, by means of the analysis we learn of the inherent possibilities of the various soil types so far as their productive power is concerned. The Illinois system of soil fertility is based primarily on the result of soil investigations, the value of which is beginning to reflect on the crop
yields of the state."
"The four bushel increase in Illinois while the country experienced a slight decrease brought more than $8,000,000 a year to raisers, based upon 8,500,000 acres of land under corn for an extra 34,000,000 bushels. What is true of corn is to some extent
true of other farm crops."
"Chemical analysis also serves as the starting point for further soil studies. Much knowledge has been gained but is yet insufficient to solve all soil problems that present themselves. If the soil productivity is to be maintained and increased, the investigations should be developed in parallel with the investigations
along other agricultural lines."

and "has shown the white feather and distinctly backed down from the position he took," in calling upon Dr. Grant to correct "unmistakably the impression which you have publicly given of your disbelief in Our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour," Dr.
Dumbbell asserted.

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists.

FAVORABLE ACTION ON BRITISH DEBT LOOKED FOR NOW

Believed Free Discussion of Plan Will Win Support

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Administration leaders in all branches of the government expressed confidence tonight that speedy and favorable action would be taken by congress on the British debt funding settlement once it is submitted by the president.

While it was generally admitted that opposition to the plan would develop considerable strength administration spokesmen argued that a free discussion of the plan would win support for both in congress and throughout the country.

The president was understood tonight not to have definitely determined whether he would present the plan for congressional consideration personally or would send it to the capitol with a brief statement of his views, although there were indications pointing to the latter course. It appeared probable that the question would be turned over to congress tomorrow.

Harding Preparing Views. President Harding was said to have been engaged much of today in drafting his views on the plan preparatory to the laying of them before congress.

He held numerous conferences with administration leaders and talked over various phases of the plan and discussions between the British and American commissioners with several members of the American commission, including Secretary Mellon its chairman.

Secretary Mellon was reported as having declared that he regarded the settlement as a victory for American statesmanship in that it would successfully close one of the greatest transactions ever to take place between two nations. Further, it was said Mr. Mellon informed the president that the settlement if accepted by congress would go far toward solving the great question of dealing with all wartime debts.

ILLINOIS AVERAGE CORN YIELD AVERAGE

URBANA, Ill.—(By A. P.)—The average yield of corn in Illinois increased from 30 to 34 bushels per acre during the last twenty years, despite a decrease in the United States from 27 bushels per acre of fifty years ago to 26.1 bushels for the ten year period of 1919-1920, according to the agronomy department of the University of Illinois. The institution's program of soil fertility investigations and teachings are declared to be responsible for the increase.

"More than 10,000 samples of soil from eighty counties have been analyzed to date," the department announces, the value of which is two-fold. "We endeavor to have a complete inventory of our natural soil resources. Knowing how much of plant food different crops require for their normal growth, by means of the analysis we learn of the inherent possibilities of the various soil types so far as their productive power is concerned. The Illinois system of soil fertility is based primarily on the result of soil investigations, the value of which is beginning to reflect on the crop yields of the state.

"The four bushel increase in Illinois while the country experienced a slight decrease brought more than $8,000,000 a year to raisers, based upon $,500,000 acres of land under corn for an extra 34,000,000 bushels. What is true of corn is true to some extent true of other farm crops.

"Chemical analysis also serves as the starting point for further soil studies. Much knowledge has been gained but is yet insufficient to solve all soil problems that present themselves. If the soil productivity is to be maintained and increased, the investigations should be developed in parallel with the investigations along other agricultural lines."

COURT MAKES ORDER FOR REAPPRAISAL

McCreary Estate Affairs. Again Occupy Attention In Sangamon County—Judge Thompson One Of Attorneys In Case.

Pending partition proceedings were delayed in the estate of John H. McCreary in the Sangamon county circuit court, when Judge E. S. Smith sustained objections made to the appraised value placed on the St. Nicholas hotel.

The valuable McCreary estate has been the center of somewhat extended litigation. The State Register gives the following summary of Judge Smith's reasons for ordering a re-appraisal of the hotel property:

A reappraisal of the property by J. A. Morton, Edward D. Keys and Edward W. Payne, who were appointed commissioners, was ordered. They were directed to appraise the property as one unit to fix the value of the St. Nicholas hotel property, the annex, and that part of the hotel known as the Quinn property, separately, and to arrive at a value of the entire hotel, including furnishings.

The original appraisal, which was not accepted, was made by George Brinkerhoff, Charles E. Sullivan and W. S. Troxell, and in discharging them from further duty as commissioners, Judge Smith made it plain there was no reflection on their work, and that they had reached their decision relative to the property value as directed by the decree of court.

Appraisal of the property followed the report of Master-in-Chancery Charles G. Briggie in the partition suit, who held the estate of the late Mr. McCreary should be equally divided among Charles S. Bartholf, William Bartholf, Mrs. Alice B. Henry and Alfred J. McCreary, named as heirs in the decedent's will.

When the commissioners' report was entered yesterday there were objections by Judge Owen P. Thompson, representing Mrs. Henry, and Atty. J. Lester Williams of Chicago, representing William Bartholf who held that the value fixed at $271,475.72 was insufficient. They pointed out that the property was appraised at $225,000 by the inheritance tax appraisers following the death of Mr. McCreary and declared that there had been no decrease in its value since that time.

It was charged by the objectors to the report that the commissioners who made the appraisal had been improperly advised and that Charles Bartholf, trustee of the McCreary estate, and one of the heirs, had boasted that he fixed the appraised value and had made it as low as could in order that he may buy the property.

In opposing acceptance of the appraisal the objectors pointed out that the hotel had been a big money maker since the death of Mr. McCreary and cited testimony during the hearing before Master-in-Chancery Briggie which showed the concern had earned annually a net profit of $50,000 or a 10 per cent return on a $500,000 investment.

Judge Thompson in arguing on the objection called attention to the fact that Charles Bartholf had instituted the partition proceedings and that he had been acting as trustee of the estate without bond. He also said that evidence brought out at the hearing before Mr. Briggie had shown that Charles Bartholf took $10,000 a year for managing the hotel; $1,000 additional for expenses, and that he also lived at the hotel.

COLLEGE AVENUE HEARING HELD

A public hearing of residents of East College avenue was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall by the board of local improvements. A number of residents were present to object but the discussion resulted in the greater number withdrawing their objections.

Another meeting will be held next Monday.

Dr. Dumbell formerly resided in Green Cove Springs, Fla.

The statement was issued from the offices of the Churchman. Bishop Manning was "guilty of glaring disloyalty to Christ" and "has shown the white feather and distinctly backed down from the position he took," in calling upon Dr. Grant to correct "unmistakably the impression which you have publicly given of your disbelief in Our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour," Dr. Dumbell asserted.

NOTED LECTURER TO VISIT CITY FEB. 16

Miss Elizabeth A. Drew to Speak Under Auspices of Local Branch of American Association of University Women.

Miss Elizabeth A. Drew, noted lecturer in English Literature, will come to Jacksonville to deliver a lecture on Friday, February 16, under the auspices of the Jacksonville branch of the American Association of University Women. Miss Drew is well known as a writer and a lecturer of ability, possessing the gift of combining whimsical humor with highly cultural and intellectual discourse. Her appearance before a Jacksonville audience will be hailed with appreciation in the college and club circles of the city.

Many people have probably read Miss Drew's article, "Literature in College", which appeared in the January number of the Atlantic Monthly, in which she speaks of the educative, and cultural value of the study of literature in colleges. But above these values, Miss Drew emphasizes the human side of the study and "literature as an interpretation of life."

Miss Ada L. Comstock, national president of the American Association of University Women, says of Miss Drew: "It has been my good fortune to hear Miss Elizabeth A. Drew speak on 'Literature in Modern Education.' Her vivid personality, her humor, her wide and scholarly knowledge, made her address delightful. She speaks easily and informally, and in such a way as to make her hearers wish to go at once to the nearest library and follow up the lines of reading which she has suggested."

AID. CHAPIN RESIGNS FROM CITY COUNCIL

Fourth Ward Alderman to Retire at Close of Current Year—Primary Election Set for March 13—Officers Reports.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night an ordinance was passed in preparation for the primary election which will be held on March 13. The council took action on the resignation of T. A. Chapin, an alderman from the fourth ward. Members of the council in accepting the resignation all voiced their regret that Mr. Chapin has determined to retire.

In the earlier part of the session bills were ordered paid and the monthly reports of officers received.

The council made change in the specifications for aerial truck apparatus for which bids will be received February 19. The original bids provided for four wheel equipment. It has been found that there are a number of other makes of aerial trucks which are of six wheel type and the specifications have been changed so that bids can be received from a larger field of manufacturers.

The primary election ordinance as prepared by City Clerk Scott shows that nominations are to be made for mayor, city clerk, city treasurer and for aldermen in all of the four wards.

Ordinarily but one alderman is to be elected from each ward but in the coming regular election in the first ward two aldermen will be chosen, one to fill the unexpired term of the late Alderman Flynn; and in the fourth ward two aldermen will be elected, one to fill the unexpired term of Alderman T. A. Chapin, who has just resigned.

BABB TRUCK IS FOUND

Local police were notified Monday of the finding of the stolen truck which thieves used to haul away several thousands of cigarettes from the Jenkinson-Bode wholesale house Friday night. The truck was located near Madison, Ill., and notice of the fact was received from Chief of Police McCambridge of that city. The truck was taken from the garage of S. W. Babb, and it appears that the thieves took a pair of license plates from the car of W. C. Baxter, which was stored in the garage at the time.

When found the truck was in good condition, and will be brought back to this city in a few days. No trace of the men who took the machine and railed the wholesale house has been discovered.

Some Pioneer History

FROM MANUSCRIPTS OF FRANK J. HEINL

In compiling this story of a century ago errors may have crept in and important facts may have been omitted. Suggestions and corrections will be acceptable.

Types of Prairie.

These prairies were of several types.

Some of them as those between the Illinois river and the bluffs were inundated most of the time. These bottoms remained unsettled for many years but even the large body of water which was known as Dickenson lake and which for many years was a paradise for hunters is now a corn and wheat field.

The interiors of most of the large prairies were wet and for much of the year were marshes, bogs or ponds. Much of the prairie was so level that water did not flow off readily but stood until absorbed by the soil or evaporated by the dry summer atmosphere. The wet and level prairies were filled with crawfish which dug their holes and threw up their hillocks everywhere.

Much of the prairie was dry and undulating and these dry prairies were those first brought under cultivation by the pioneers who made their clearings in the forests.

All of the large prairies in the summer were covered with a luxuriant growth of prairie grass and weeds which grew so tall and rank that a man on horseback could not see any distance around him. The edges of the prairies and forests and spots of varying size in the prairies were brilliant with many hued flowers in season.

Prairie Fires.

Sometimes, probably frequently, these prairies in the dry autumn were swept by fires, which destroyed all vegetation and left them charred and blackened, but enriched for another growth. These prairie fires ran into edges of the forests and burned the underbrush and fallen trees. These fires burned so fiercely that every sapling or tree sprout on the prairies was destroyed and this probably explains the absence of trees on the prairies for, as soon as they were broken and cultivated and the destruction by fire avoided, tree growth flourished and within a few decades after pioneer days the forests advanced into the prairies.

Barrens.

Besides the forest lands and prairies there were lands of another type called barrens. These barrens were not necessarily poor lands, but had a surface of mixed, broken character, often uniting prairie and forest, with open, scattered forests, interspersed with patches of stunted oak and other trees and hazel and mixed underbrush. The appearance of these barrens, especially in the sandy and hilly sections, led the first explorers to infer that the soil was necessarily poor. After the pioneers stopped the prairie fires and the grasses and underbrush in these barrens were eaten or trodden down by domestic animals, much of these barrens became thickly forested.

Mauvaisterre.

The appearance to the French explorers of the barrens along the lower Mauvaisterre creek was responsible for the misnomer applied to the river, as the French called it, for fertile as are the lands drained by its upper reaches, its name rendered into English means "barren lands."

Fruits and Nuts.

In the forests were found numerous species of trees, and many great and noble specimens. Among the nut-bearing trees were butternuts, walnuts, pecan and hickories of several kinds. The hackberry, mulberry, wild cherry, persimmon, crab, plum and several kinds of haws furnished fruit which could be utilized. The sugar maple furnished sugar. For fuel and lumber, in addition to these were elms, willow, oaks, poplars, honey locust, sycamore, hornbeam, red-bud, coffee tree, ironwood, maples, box elder, buckeye, basswood, ash and sassafras. In the undergrowth of the forests were dense thickets of hazel nut, of fruit bearing shrubs such as paw paw, plum, crab, haws, blackberries, raspberries, gooseberries and elder and of dogwood, sumac, prickly act, red cedar, wahoo, viburnum and many other species.

Over the undergrowth and in to the larger trees climbed the wild grape, Virginia creeper, trumpet vine, snail, moonseed, bittersweet, poison ivy, clematis, and bindweed, tying and twining the undergrowth and trees to

ENGINEER HAS WON

URBANA, Ill.—(By A. P.)—In the shabby office in the laboratory of applied mechanics at the University of Illinois, tolling early and late, sits Prof. Arthur Newell Talbot, 65, still unsatisfied with results that have made him a character of international repute. His engineering achievements forever will stand as scientific classics while many of his works have been translated into every language which knows of engineering.

Many an evening, long after most of the engineering buildings are dark, Prof. Talbot will be found pouring over his study, directing further investigation in railroad track stresses his greatest contribution to engineering science. Engineers have given him their greatest honor, the presidency of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

For thirty-two years Prof. Talbot has guided the department of municipal and sanitary engineering and the department of theoretical and applied mechanics. He no longer conducts classes, but was relieved to devote all his time to research.

If other Illinois engineers have left to their alma mater works of greater art, none has been so versatile, in the opinion of brother professors, at one time his students, Prof. Talbot is responsible for engineering works on railroads, waterworks, pavement and public works, investigations of steel, brick, reinforced concrete, other materials of construction and track stresses. ## DEGREE CONFERRED 19 YEARS AGO JUST ANNOUNCED

AMES, Ia.—To have a degree from Iowa State college for a period of 19 years and not to have known it is the experience of Dr. William T. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological park.

Dr. Hornaday was a student at Ames in the early seventies but did not finish his work here. Today he is probably one of the best known naturalists in the world and has devoted his life to building up the largest collection of wild animal, fish and bird life to be found anywhere.

In recognition of his great work the college conferred upon him the honorary degree of Master of Philosophy but failed to notify him of the honor. During the summer Dr. L. H. Pammel, head of the botany department, made a visit to the east and while in conversation with Dr. Hornaday mentioned the conferring of the degree which the eminent zoologist promptly denied. The matter was taken up with college authorities and proper notification was made.

Springfield, Ill.—The legislative department of the Illinois United Mine Workers has been urged by various locals to advocate creation of a state insurance fund in connection with the Illinois compensation law.

The miners are considering bringing this before the legislature. Officials of the union assert employers all over the state are taking advantage of the present law through private insurance companies which underwrite the liability, and that these insurance companies, by delaying cases of technicalities, work great injustice to injured claimants.

TODAY I AM
REAL WELL

So Writes Woman After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Jamestown, N. Y.—"I was nervous, easily excited and discouraged and had no ambition. Part of the time I was not able to sit up as I suffered with pains in my back and with weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, both the liquid and tablet forms, and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash for intimate wash for inflammation. Today I am real well and on a rooming house and do the work. I recommend your medicine to every woman who complains, and you may use my letter to help any one else. I am passing through the change of life now and I keep the Vegetable Compound in the house, ready to take when I feel the need of it."—Mrs. Alice D. Davis, 203 W. Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Often some slight derangement may cause a general upset condition of the whole system, indicated by such symptoms as nervousness, backache, lack of ambition and general weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine for such troubles. In many cases it has removed the cause of the trouble.

GETTING TOO FAT? TRY THIS—REDUCE
People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmota Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmota Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.—Adv.

Jervis Pendleton, a business man and the hero—Russell Deatherage.
Mrs. Lippett, head of the Child's Home—Rhoda Rammelkamp.

PIONEER OF GREENE COUNTY PASSED AWAY

Sherman Ford Dies at Nebo, Pike County, at Age of 86 Years—Couple Wed in Winchester—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, Feb. 5.—The death of Sherman Ford at Nebo, Pike county, last Friday removes one of the pioneers of Greene county. He was nearing his 86th birthday, and he was a native of Greene county, born at Patterson, May 7, 1837. He and Miss Elizabeth Hudson were married in 1857, where the city of Roodhouse now stands. Mr. Ford located in southwest Missouri following the Civil War, he having served as a private in Company K, 59th Illinois Infantry, and then again returned to Greene county, where he has since resided at Patterson and White Hall, excepting intervals in Pike county. He and his life companion were residing with their son James at Nebo when the end came as the result of a general breakdown. The remains were conveyed to Patterson Sunday, and funeral services were conducted in the Baptist church at noon by Rev. J. O. Raines of White Hall, and the burial was in Pine Tree cemetery.

There are five living sons, who are James, of Nebo; Edward, of Northern Illinois; Frank, of White Hall; William, of Kansas; and George, of Iowa. One son is dead. The deceased was well known over this section of the state, and in former years was active in soldier affairs.

A marriage of local interest took place in Winchester Saturday the contracting parties being John Griffin and Mrs. Hettie Neighbors, both highly respected citizens of White Hall. They will reside in the Griffin home on Maple Heights. Mr. Griffin is the father of four children and the bride has six children, all people of most excellent character and standing, which reflects the value of the couple who have again chosen to sail the sea of wedlock.

C. I. McCollister is in receipt of a telegram stating that his brother Arthur McCollister, is dead at Fresno, Calif.

Another rehearsal of the oratorio "The Holy City," was held in the Christian church tonight under the direction of Rev. Ben Claiborne of Roodhouse. It is the intention to give performances at Roodhouse and White Hall in the near future for the benefit of the new Christian church at Roodhouse. It will be a very elaborate presentation of Gaul's masterpiece and it is bringing together the leading singing talent of White Hall for the auditing and criticism of the good neighbors of Roodhouse.

A telegram received by L. W. Tullison states that Mrs. C. H. Hoffman died at Heyworth, Illinois, Sunday night, and that the remains will be brought to White Hall for burial. She was formerly Miss Cora Welker, daughter of the late John Welker, and was 55 years of age. The only survivor of the Welker family is a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Dan O'Brien, of Oregon, Ill. These people are all well known former residents of White Hall. The Hoffmans were located at Roodhouse for a number of years, where he was in the train service of the C. & A., and failing health caused him to make a change thirteen years ago by going to Georgia and engaging in business. Three years later the family located at Heyworth. There are two grown daughters, Misses Lelia and Helen Arlene, residing in Chicago. The remains are expected to arrive here late tonight or Tuesday.

Market Report

MARKET PRICES MOVED
TO HIGHER GROUND

Day's total sales 1,017,000
sh. Twenty industrials averaged 100.03; net gain, .70.
High 1923, 100.03; low,
96.96.
Twenty railroads averaged 88.80; net gain, .74.
High 1923 88.08, low $4.53.
Bond sales, par value, $13-960,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Prices
moved to higher ground in today's stock market in seeming indifference of week-end news despatches announcing a virtual break up of the Lausanne peace conference. The averages of 20 industrials and 20 railroads at the close of the market were at new peak levels for the year. Considerable importance was attached to traders to the fact that prices of stocks had emerged from the narrow trading area in which they have been fluctuating for about fifty business days.

Heavy buying of stocks at the close was based, in part, on the fact that prices had broken out of the trading area on the upside,
which was regarded in some quarters as barometric of the course of prices in the immediate future.
Speculators for the decline,
acting on the theory that the unfavorable news from Lausanne warranted a reaction offered the standard industrials freely at the opening but their encountered
good resistance and finally abandoned their operations on the short side when the demand for the rail shares assumed large proportions. Early losses were recovered generally and several leaders touched new highs. Trading slackened on the rally but became livelier toward the close on the circulation of reports that hope was still held out at Lausanne for a satisfactory agreement.

Renewed activity of railroad shares was ascribed to the operations of large traders. Baltimore & Ohio was one leader touching 52 1/2 for a net gain of 3 1/2 on transactions totalling approximately 35,000 shares.

Call money held at 4 1/2 per cent.
Time money was firmer with brokers apparently willing to pay 4 1/2 per cent for all but the shortest maturities but the volume of business was comparatively small.
Out of town bankers were the principal buyers of commercial paper, the bulk of the best names
still commanding 4 1/2 per cent.
Foreign exchanges opened easier
but they made good recovery later and final quotations were, as a rule, slightly above those of Saturday.

New high records for the year
were established by all the United States government 4 1/2 per cent bonds on gains of 24 to 44 cents
on $100 which were materially reduced or cancelled later.

CHURCH WEDDING AT FRANKLIN TODAY
Ray Ryan and Miss Opal Hatcher
to be United in Marriage this Morning at Franklin Church—
Will Reside in Franklin.
A pretty wedding ceremony
will take place this morning at the Sacred Heart church at Franklin at 8 o'clock when Miss Opal Marie Hatcher of Winchester will become the bride of Raymond F. Ryan of Franklin. Reverend Father Smith will officiate.
The young couple will be attended by Miss Frances Ryan and William B. Ryan, brother and sister of the groom. The ceremony will be witnessed by only immediate relatives of the contracting parties.
The bride is a niece of Mr.
and Mrs. J. A. Ligon of Winchester, Ill. She graduated from the Winchester high school with the class of 1919. For several years she taught in the public schools of Scott county and later took a course in the Proctor Training school for nurses at Peoria, Ill.
Mrs. Ryan is a young woman of musical talent and her charming personality has won for her a host of friends.
The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ryan of Franklin. He attended the schools of Franklin and served sixteen months in the world war.
Mr. Ryan is one of the prominent young business men of the community in which he resides and at present is manager of the Farmers
Grain elevator at Pisgah.
After the ceremony the bridal party will enjoy an elegant wedding breakfast served at the home of the groom. They will depart in the afternoon for Chicago and other northern points for a several weeks wedding trip after which they will be at home in Franklin.

Brooklyn Brevities
In spite of the zero weather, a very fine attendance was present at the opening hour of Sunday school. As a part of the program, Miss Elizabeth Dickinson sang a solo entitled, "I Think, When I Read that Sweet
Story of Old" and Miss Leah Walters
read.
The pastor preached two inspiring sermons to responsive audiences on
"The Mutilated Bible" and "Living
for Eternity."
Tuesday evening the Ladies of Circle No. 2 will give a supper in the church parlors. Wednesday night is church night, with study classes and luncheon. Everybody invited. Next Sunday morning, a special program will be rendered in honor of Lincoln's birthday. Next Sunday evening, Illinois College students and faculty will worship with us. A fine program is under way for the occasion.

Brooklyn Brevities
While being more or less a convenience to the tourists, the dollar standard of value brings considerable money into the pockets
of the dealers. The depreciated
value of Portuguese currency
would render their returns very
meager if they adhered to their own escudos. As it is, they buy
their merchandise in escudos and
sell them in dollars. At the stores
where souvenirs are sold, the sales
boys snap cut their prices in dollars and cents with the alacrity
of street vendors.
Wooden sleds drawn by oxen
over cobblestone streets, on which
not one flake of snow ever falls,
again provide the principal form
of amusement this season for the American invasion. The quaint
wooden sled is an elaborate construction as sleds go. It partakes
of the nature of a sled and, at the same time, a victoria. It is gaily
painted, and is capped by a fringed
canopy to shade the passenger
from the sun.
The oxen are hurried on by their
driver with a whip which he slashes
as he runs alongside the vehicle. At intervals he throws a
heavy piece of canvas, doubled
several times and saturated with
oil, under the runner so that they may be lubricated. The process is more habitual than efficacious.
Sharing with the oxen-drawn
sled, as an amusement feature, is
the wooden toboggan. This is run
down a fairly steep cobblestone
road from the hill overlooking Funchal's picturesque harbor. A cog railway facilitates the ascent.

AMERICAN DOLLAR
IS USED IN MADEIRA
FUNCHAL, Madeira — The
American dollar, altho Portuguese
currency is the legal coin of
the island, has become the favorite medium of exchange for local
merchants and hotelkeepers.
Every influx of American tourists, brought here on the cruises
to the Mediterranean and Egypt,
is watched with the keenest interest, and prices are marked and
quoted in coin of the United States. Even in a standard commodity like Madeira wine, the price quoted to Americans is in
dollars.
While being more or less a convenience to the tourists, the dollar standard of value brings considerable money into the pockets
of the dealers. The depreciated
value of Portuguese currency
would render their returns very
meager if they adhered to their
own escudos. As it is, they buy
their merchandise in escudos and
sell them in dollars. At the stores
where souvenirs are sold, the sales
boys snap cut their prices in dollars and cents with the alacrity
of street vendors.
Wooden sleds drawn by oxen
over cobblestone streets, on which
not one flake of snow ever falls,
again provide the principal form
of amusement this season for the American invasion. The quaint
wooden sled is an elaborate construction as sleds go. It partakes
of the nature of a sled and, at the
same time, a victoria. It is gaily
painted, and is capped by a fringed
canopy to shade the passenger
from the sun.
The oxen are hurried on by their
driver with a whip which he slashes
as he runs alongside the vehicle. At intervals he throws a
heavy piece of canvas, doubled
several times and saturated with
oil, under the runner so that they
may be lubricated. The process is
more habitual than efficacious.
Sharing with the oxen-drawn
sled, as an amusement feature, is
the wooden toboggan. This is run
down a fairly steep cobblestone
road from the hill overlooking Funchal's picturesque harbor. A
cog railway facilitates the ascent.

Large Pimples
All Over Face
Red, Very Hard and Sore.
Eruptions Caused Disfigurement. Cuticura Heals.
"My face was broken out with large pimples that were red and very hard. They were scattered all over my face and were very sore at times,
which caused me to scratch them.
The scratching caused sore eruptions
which very badly disfigured my face.
I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I purchased more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box
of Cuticura Ointment I was healed."

Grace Church Doings
Zero weather is disastrous to automobile radiators and it affects Sunday school attendance.
It was Missionary day in the school and an interesting program
had been arranged by the Missionary committee. Mrs. J. Bart Johnson sang a very appropriate song in her usual pleasing manner. The story of an Italian girl was very effectively told by Frances Marie Scott. The Missionary offering amounted to $37.58 and the attendance was 237.
At 10:45 the pastor used as a theme "Education in Jacksonville." At 6:30 the Junior Intermediate and Senior Leagues met.
In the Senior League very interesting meetings are being held following the Mission Study course on India. The subject of the evening sermon by the pastor was "Wasted Talents."
The Opportunity Class will meet on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Anna Scott, 823
North Church street. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. The executive board will meet at two o'clock.
Church supper at 6:15 Wednesday evening luncheon served by The Queen Esthers, plates
25c, tickets on sale at Gilbert's
Drug Store. Special program follows the luncheon and the regular mid week prayer service at 7:30. The Young Women's Fellowship circle will meet following the luncheon.

AMERICAN DOLLAR
IS USED IN MADEIRA
FUNCHAL, Madeira — The
American dollar, altho Portuguese
currency is the legal coin of
the island, has become the favorite medium of exchange for local
merchants and hotelkeepers.
Every influx of American tourists, brought here on the cruises
to the Mediterranean and Egypt,
is watched with the keenest interest, and prices are marked and
quoted in coin of the United States. Even in a standard commodity like Madeira wine, the
price quoted to Americans is in
dollars.
While being more or less a con-

The freight bills you pay are less from St. Louis than from any other big market because the mileage is less.
